

Port Hope Profile

The Municipality

Historic Port Hope is known as “the most preserved town in Canada” due to its heritage conservation district featuring a wealth of beautifully restored early homes and buildings. The majestic Ganaraska River runs through the heart of town to Lake Ontario. It’s abundant salmon and trout are the town’s only “traffic jam”.

The lifestyle is superb, with more than 200 acres of parklands, shopping and dining that are second to none, numerous beautiful bed and breakfasts, a world class spa, golfing and some of the most diverse year-round fishing in Ontario.

The municipality offers a strong education system, with many separate and private schools, including the prestigious Trinity College School founded in 1865.

The Attraction

Port Hope offers people a lot more than its charm. It will attract all those seeking a better quality of life and a great place to raise families. It has just the right features to entice the more affluent in particular over the next 10 years.

Port Hope offers freedoms that large cities like Toronto can't. Like freedom from high housing costs and urban congestion. Houses are as low as $189,000 – half the cost of Toronto. And you can forget about being stuck in traffic for an hour getting to work.

Do you like getting away from the city on weekends? If you live in Port Hope, you're already there! Lake Ontario and great vacationlands are at your door. And the town offers places to play, for any interests.

Port Hope will always give you this because of a municipality committed to preserving its lifestyle and history.

And all of this is within easy reach of Toronto.

That's why Port Hope is poised to become Ontario's next hot market, fueling strong business growth.
